

Isabel Gutiérrez
Professor of Management

Office: 6.0.34
Tel: (34) 91 624 96 27
Fax: (34) 91 624 96 07
E-mail: isabel.gutierrez @ uc3m.es

Isabel Gutiérrez is a Professor of Management at the Department of Business Administration at Carlos III University. She holds a Ph. D. in Business Administration and a Licentiate degree in business and economics from University of Seville (Spain). She worked as both assistant and associate professor for University of Seville. She has been visiting professor at Arizona State University.

She teaches management, organization theory and organizational design to undergrads and doctoral students. Isabel's research interests focus on organization theory and competitive strategy. Her research examines the competitive and spatial dynamics affecting the outcomes and survival of firms that face radical innovation and environmental discontinuities. She has published in leading journals, such as the Academy of Management Journal, Organization Studies and the Academy of Management Review.

In addition to her teaching and research, Isabel provides service and leadership to several academic journals and professional associations. She served as editor in-chief for Management Research until January 2007, and sits on the editorial boards of some journals in management, including the Journal of Management, European Management Review, Journal of Management and Governance, the Journal of High Technology Management Research, M@n@gement, Revista de Empresa and Revista Europea de Economía y Dirección de Empresas. She has served as ah hoc reviewer of some leading management journals as Strategic Management Journal, the Academy of Management Review, Journal of Management Studies, and Scandinavian Journal of Management, among others.

Isabel is currently the Vice-Chancellor of Undergraduate Programs at Carlos III University and the Spanish representative at the Board of the European Academy of Management (EURAM), and until December 2006 vice-president of publications of this Academy. She also served in the Iberoamerican Academy of Management as Vice-president and Program Chair for the 1999 annual conference. Isabel is a former Director of the Department of Business Administration at Carlos III University (1996-2001).