

Niels Noorderhaven (1955) is Professor of International Management (since 1997) and Head of the Department of Organization & Strategy (since 2003). His research focuses on (international) cooperation in business, with a special interest in issues of culture, trust, interorganizational learning and innovation strategy. His teaching is in the areas of Comparative Management, International Business, Organization Theory, and Strategy. In his spare time he likes to sail Peer Gynt, a 1973 Tripp Lentsch yacht.